This is Greek salad. This is like probably the best summer salad. Go make it. Step one, we're gonna chop the veggies. Cut the tomatoes in half, then slice them into wedges. Cut the green bell peppers into bite-sized pieces. Peel the cucumber, cut it in half lengthwise, then slice it into bite-sized half moons. Cut the red onion in half, then into thin slices. I like to arrange the vegetables on a large serving platter and share it with different people. Now add Kalamata olives, a sprinkle of dried oregano, a pinch of salt, and a drizzle of olive oil. Now I like to add a block of feta or dairy-free feta on top. Add some more good quality extra virgin olive oil on top, a sprinkle of dried oregano. Easy right?
